FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so nu-

When I came into my private office I; found a queer looking man at least s x feet high, with a little apple head, a long queue, and a face critically round and rosy as a ripe cherry. He handed me a letter from his Excellency, the Hon. Peleg Peashell, recommending him particularly to my patronage.

I was a little inclined to be cade, but checked myself, remembering that I was the servant of such men as my visitor, and that I might get the reputation of an aristocrat if I made any distinction between man and man.

"Well, my friend, what signation do

"Why y y, I'm not very particular; but somehow or other, I think I should like to be a Minister. I don't mean of the Gospel, but one of them Ministers to foreign parts of the world."

"I am very sorry, ladeed, there is by vacancy just now. Would not something else suit you as weli?" "Why," answered the apple headed man, "I wouldn't much mind being a Controller, or an Auditor, or some such "My dear sir, I am sorry, indeed, but happens, unfortunately, that all the three situations are filled. Would you not take something else?" My friend stroked his chin and seemed struggling to bring down the sourings of his high ambition to the present

At last he answered: "Why, yes, I don't care much if I get good Collectorship, or Inspectorship, or Surveyorship, or Navy Agency, or mything of that sort." 'Really, my good Mr. Fipenny," said I. "I regret exceedingly that not only all those, but every other place of consequence in the government is at present occupied. Pray think of something

He then, after some hesitation, asked for a clerkship, and finally the place of messenger to one of the public offices. Finding no vacancy here he seemed in vast perplexity, and looked all around the room, fixing his eye finally on me, and measuring my height from head to foot; then putting on one of the drolless looks that ever bedecked the face of man he said:

"Mister, you and I seem to be ball! pretty much alike - havn't you got some old clothes that you could spare?"

Oh, what a falling off was there! from a foreign mission to a suit of old clothes, which, the reader be assared, I gave him with infinite pleasure, in reward for the only honest laugh I enjoy ed for years afterward.

THE FLAG OF ITALY .-- A short time since a vessel arrived at this port from Sicily, that country which, in so brief a period, under the gallant lead of Gari-baldi, has succeeded in overthrowing the tyrannical Neapolitan Government, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are servidous; their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is underwined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renevate the bleed by my additional transfer and their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is underwined by it. tain of the vessel presented himself the Custom House, as usual, with his papers. "From what country do you come?" asked the matter of fact official.

"From ITALY," replied the Italian. "But from what particular nation ? from Naples, Sicily or Sardinia?" "From the nation of ITALY !" replied

The perplexed official again busils searched a book containing the flags of the different nationalities, and then remarked. "I find here no flag of Italy." "But there IS an ITALY," replied

Our Government has received no official notice of any change of government in Sicily, and must therefore not for the present under the existing regulations, though in the present case the captain persists in reporting that he neither sails under the Sardinian, the Sicilian, nor Neapolitan, but under the flag of Italy!

space.—The New Orleans Picayune, one of the most temperate of Southern papers, in an article entitled "Union against Republicanism," incidentally touches upon Mr, Seward:

Dead issues, like autumn leaves, begin to fall to the ground. The Dred Scott decision took the life ont of the Wilmot Proviso, which at any time was a mere abstraction. Without the opening of the slave trade, Seward, a man who never speaks rashly, nor unfolds his plans prematurely, says the Territories cannot be converted into slave. This logical deduction begins to be made by the conservative men of the North, who know that the perpetu ity of the Union depends not simply upon non-interference with the rights of the South, but the maintenance of mutual fellowship between the citizens of all the States.
